German Cruisers Broke Through Blockade And Bombarded Two English Coast Cities

ORDER WILL SEND SCOTT TO ARIZONA

To Use His Personal Influence With Leaders Of Mexican Factions

TO CEASE HOSTILITIES AND AVOID TROUBLE.

U. S. TROOPS ENTRAINED

And Ready to Go to Naco to Enforce President Wilson's Demands—Unofficial Report That Villa Leader Has Already Agreed to Quit Firing Over Border.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 16.—Brig. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army was today ordered by the war department to proceed to Naco, Ariz. to use his personal influence with Mexican leaders to cease hostilities.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 16.—While American reinforcements were ready today for Naco, Ariz., administration officials learned through unofficial advices that Governor Maytorena, commander of the Villa forces besieging the Mexican town of Naco, has announced he would discontinue firing into American territory.

This compliance with the orders of provisional President Gutierrez, it was believed here, would relieve a tense situation.

The Washington government had been notified that the orders of Gutierrez to his commander had been dispatched. It had warned both factions that unless the firing ceased American artillery would shell the Mexican troops out of their positions. The reinforcements ordered yesterday to proceed to Naco to reinforce Brig. Gen. Bliss, were expected to reach their destinations within three days and it was the general impression here that if at the end of that period firing across the border had not ceased the American troops would be ordered to return to the fire.

The reinforcements are being sent to Naco in response to the request of General Bliss as a precautionary measure. The troops are the 11th, 18th and 22nd infantry from Texas City, and three batteries of artillery from Fort Sill, Okla. With these reinforcements the American forces at Naco would be brought up to approximately 5,000 men, including eleven troops of cavalry, three regiments of infantry and six batteries of artillery with 24 guns.

SECRETARY GARRISON EXPLAINS SCOTT'S MISSION
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 16.—Secretary Garrison explained General Scott's mission to Naco in this statement: "By reason of the personal acquaintances acquired with the different factions while he was stationed on the border, General Scott has been sent to Naco to induce the warring factions on the Mexican side of the line to cease firing over the border. General Bliss has pointed out to us the possibility of utilizing General Scott's knowledge and experience in this way."

General Scott will leave Washington at 6:15 p. m. today, and expects to arrive at Naco at 2 p. m. Saturday. His mission is purely conciliatory to begin with, at least, though what will follow if his efforts to secure compliance by the warring factions with the reasonable demands of the United States government is not doubted. If, after further warnings, the fire into Arizona does not stop, it will be returned by the American troops.

OLD BRIGADE OF U. S. TROOPS PREPARING TO GO INTO SERVICE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Texas City, Texas, Dec. 16.—After a night of bustling activity, preparations for the departure of the sixth brigade of infantry for Naco, Ariz., to aid enforcing President Wilson's demands that firing across the line by Mexicans cease were virtually complete today. It was expected that the three regiments, the 18th, 19th, 20th and 22nd, infantry, under command of Brig. Gen. Thomas F. (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3.)

Naval Engagement Between Germans and English Reported

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Hartlepool, England, Dec. 16.—(Via London.)—It is reported here that a flotilla of British torpedo boat destroyers early this morning encountered three German cruisers eight miles off the English coast. The cruisers immediately opened fire.

NO SURPRISE IS FELT AT WASHINGTON

AT BOMBARDMENT OF ENGLISH COAST TOWNS, WHICH WAS EXPECTED SOONER.

British Embassy Officials Decline to Comment on the German Raid at This Time.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 16.—At the British embassy today it was said Scarborough was in no sense a fortified town, but in the absence of admiralty reports of the German naval raids, embassy officials did not care to comment on the attacks. Scarborough military observers say, might logically be the object of a landing force because of its position on the two railways leading to Edinburgh and Hull.

In anticipation of such an event Scarborough, like many other English coast towns, has been protected by barbed wire entanglements along all the roads leading from the coast inland. The famous "Foresore road," which formed the promenade of the summer resort along the water's edge, has been protected by sandbag entrenchments.

On the north cliff, overlooking the sea barracks, are situated which in times of peace are used chiefly as training grounds, the excellent race course, making it especially practicable for cavalry maneuvers.

It has been pointed out that the shallow harbor there, which makes the entrance of large ships impossible at low tide, however, would be no obstacle against small draft barges or transports such as it is believed the Germans might use. From information in possession of the navy department it also would seem that Scarborough is not fortified or defended. The port of Hartlepool, however, is amongst the list of defended harbors and consequently is subject to attack by a hostile force without notice of bombardment and without violation of the Hague convention.

The British privy council last August issued in the form of an army order for the benefit of merchant vessels a list of all the harbor ports that had been placed under martial law and which consequently were to be regarded as in a state of defense. The list follows: Cromarty, Aberdeen, Tay, Forth, Tyne, Tees and Hartlepool, Humber, Thames, Newbury, Harwich, Dover, New Haven, Portsmouth, Portland, Plymouth, Falmouth, Milford Haven, Swansea, Cardiff and Barry, Mersey, Barrow, Clyde, Loughswilly, Belfast, Queenstown, Berehaven, Dublin, the Orkneys and the Shetlands.

Naval officers here were little surprised to hear of the appearance of German warships on the English coast. They had not only expected some such demonstration, but have been puzzled to know why some attempt had not been made before. Notwithstanding the strength of the British fleet which has been blockading the German coast, naval officers here have thought the line of investment could not be made absolutely tight because of the stormy weather at this season with dense fogs. The British ships also have been obliged to lie many miles off the German coast to escape the fire of shore batteries, and particularly to avoid the mine fields which lie thickly sown without soundings.

They have considered it a hazardous and perfectly possible undertaking for a daring commander to run his vessels through the line by night. It might be possible though more difficult for him to bring ships back to port.

Naval strategists believe that the German raid has a double purpose. First they think it was intended to strike terror into the hearts of the British people, and, second, to extend the British dominion by creating a public opinion which would require troops to be kept home for defensive use. Second, they think the German cruisers, which appeared off Hartlepool and Scarborough, are accompanied by submarines, and it was the German purpose to lure the British warships, which would be sent in pursuit, near enough to come within range of torpedoes.

Board of Trade Approves Heartily Of Blair Truck Company's Proposal And Will Try to Keep Plant In Newark

A mass meeting of former members of the Newark Board of Trade, which will be in the nature of a homecoming or reunion, will be a feature of the post-holiday season, according to action taken Tuesday night at the annual meeting of the board held in Assembly Hall, when the annual banquet was served. Despite the fact that the hall was as cold as the Licking Creamery's refrigerating plant, there was considerably more enthusiasm displayed than was anticipated by some of the members who felt that obsequies would be more appropriate.

When the meeting opened it was more like a consultation of medical men around the sick-bed of a patient nearing death. Just about when everybody had decided that hope should be abandoned, someone suggested a salt solution of enthusiasm, the patient revives and is now on the road to recovery.

The Board of Trade, which has just passed through the worst season of criticism it has ever suffered, has taken a new lease on life and tentative plans were laid at the annual meeting which gives promise of renewed and successful activities for the future.

Among the plans discussed last night were those looking towards the successful financing of the plant of the Blair Manufacturing company, which was conceded by all to be one of the most promising industries ever offered to the city.

The inside history of the company was disclosed at Tuesday night's meeting, and to a great many of those present, the plant was placed in a new light. It became clear, during the progress of the meeting that there will be no difficulty in financing the plant. It is only a question of whether Newark people will keep the plant for Newark.

Word brought from Cincinnati, Detroit and Philadelphia, indicate that financiers in each of these three cities are only waiting for the plans of the local organization to fail, to pounce down on the Newark plant and carry it away bodily to one or the other of the three cities named.

Cincinnati capitalists guaranteed to raise the money necessary within less than 48 hours. Detroit people made similar promises, and it is known that Philadelphia men are (Continued on Page 11, Col. 3.)

Reported That Khedive Is Considering the Leading of a Turkish Army Into That Country.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 16.—A dispatch to the Central News from Constantinople, via Amsterdam, states that Khedive Abbas Hilmi of Egypt, has gone to Vienna for a conference with the Austrian authorities. Abbas Hilmi has been in Constantinople for some time, and according to reports was preparing to lead a Turkish army into Egypt to wrest control of the country from the British. His pro-Ottoman leanings, it has been stated, cannot have been his own. Recently there have been reports from British sources that he would be deposed as Khedive and that Prince Fessoum Pasha would reign in his stead.

Raid Began In Thick Fog

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Hull, Dec. 16.—(Via London.)—The arrival of the German raiders off Scarborough took place under cover of a thick veil of fog. Some people declared they saw a German cruiser lying off Castle Cliff. The roof of St. Martin's church was struck and one man is known to have been killed. Another church was damaged and the roofs of several houses were carried away by shells.

Bombardment Seen Ten Miles Away

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Red Car, York, England, Dec. 16.—(Via London.)—Heavy firing was heard off the coast here between 8 and 8:20 a. m. today. The forms of three cruisers could be discerned looming out of the haze, and the flashes of artillery fire could be easily observed from the Red Car promenade. The people of Red Car sought the water front, but they were driven back from the promenade by the military authorities to a point beyond the zone of danger. It appeared from here as if the hostile warships were attacking the forts on Tree Bay.

Red Cross Seals.

When the young woman selling Red Cross Christmas seals starts toward you while you're buying stamps at the postoffice or purchasing ribbons, shirts, or ash-trays in the store, don't slide away looking at something in the dim distance. Buy some of her stamps. She isn't after money to send to some far-off charity. She wants cash to use in the war against consumption that is going on here at home, through the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and its local constituent branches.

If you happen to be the owner of a big concern and she approaches you with her appeal, take the precaution of your pocketbook for once and peel off a "yellow boy" or two. You will never miss it, and the money cannot be better invested. On the other hand, if you drive a milk cart or dig ditches for a living, hand her the extra three or four cents you have in your pocket. If you are a woman and the purchasing agent for the family, make father and the boys eat chuck-steak for one night and spend the difference between the cost of the steak and the roast you intended to buy for a batch of Christmas seals.

Eighty per cent of the amount that you contribute to the fund is going to be spent right here in Newark. For every $50 to $60 contributed, another consumptive can be cared for and removed from the streets where he or she is a menace to your sons and daughters.

Buying insurance will not prevent you from dying, and neither will your contribution to the Red Cross fund be an absolute guarantee that you or some member of your family will not become a victim to tuberculosis. Your contribution, nevertheless, will assist in the fight to eradicate this plague, and the stamps you receive will be a reminder to your friends that you are not the crusty old curdmudgeon that you may appear to be on the surface. The Advocate has a supply of Red Cross stamps and will supply you upon request. The stamps cost 1 cent each.

In speaking of Carranza, the ex-Fisher, Zapata, the highwayman, and Villa, the jauntier, ex-President Huerta, of Mexico, shows a vigorous grasp on the character of his fellow-countrymen, as well as an understanding of power, but his language is hardly conducive to harmony. Cheers and Smiles

For every tear you shed smile twice, And in a rattle you'll find your little world set right. You'll find your little world set right. For just as sunbeams melt the snow Smiles banish gloom. And though you can't endure not fear, While dwelleth cheer.

Snap Shots

There are two schools of experience, the day and night.

Strictly defined, an optimist is a man who expects to win his Christmas turkey in a rattle.

Generally speaking, a man's friends make more trouble for him than his enemies.

"He is the sort of man," said Eph Wilcox yesterday in referring to Zed Swimmer, "who is willing to contribute to the starving Belgians to the extent of giving them three cheers."

Some of the farmer's contempt of town men is inspired by the fact that most town men shave every day.

A good deal may be said for both sides and, usually, it is said.

Tank Heverly says it has reached the point in the magazine to which he subscribes where "fiction" and "snuff" are synonymous terms.

The fact that you can prove a thing by reliable testimony is no indication that it is true.

German Soldiers Yell by Orders.

Here is a curious instance of the German way of doing things. The German military system does not take into account the natural impulse of a charging, excited trooper to yell anyway under the vociferous conditions of a battle. He is commanded to yell as part of the shock action to which each man must contribute to make overpowering. During the winter schooling he actually is drilled in individual charging to yell at a certain point in the charge and is severely criticised if he does not make noise enough. It is the same with singing. The Germans are naturally a musical people and sing spontaneously, but with regiments in the field songs are started and stopped by command.—World's Work.

Mending a Broken Nose.

Dr. O. A. Lathrop of Boston reports to the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal on a remarkable operation by which he straightened a baseball player's nose that had been smashed by a bat. He cut a strip of bone two inches long and a quarter of an inch wide from the inner edge of the man's shoulder blade and inserted this in his nose. Four weeks later the graft had entirely healed and the nose had assumed its normal shape and color.

Time in West Africa.

Because of the scarcity of clocks in West Africa events are timed by the regular daily occurrences. For example, a native wrote that he had received news of her sister's sickness "a little while before the guinea fowls talk"—that is, about 5 o'clock in the morning.

Great Endurance.

"An elephant is one of the strongest as well as one of the most patient animals on earth," said the student of natural history.

"He has to be," replied Mr. Growbeer. "Think of all the circus he is compelled to look at."—Washington Star.

Where Atlantic Is Narrowest.

Between Brazil and Guinea the Atlantic ocean is only about 1,509 miles wide. From Newfoundland to Ireland, the narrowest breadth north of the equator, is nearly twice as far. From New York to the nearest point of France is nearly three times as far.

Fashion.

"What makes the fashion?" a fashionable woman once asked the great designer Worth.

"What I make and you wear—that is the fashion, madam," he replied.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION
By a Stomach Specialist

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bismuthated magnesia, which is the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bismuthated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

Supreme Court Has Adjourned For Holidays
(Associated Press Telegram.)
Columbus, Dec. 16.—Ohio has 17 more attorneys since Chief Justice Nicholas today swore in that number of young men who passed the bar examination. Three others in the class were in Washington and will be sworn in at a later date.

After administering the oath to the young attorneys, the supreme court adjourned until January 4. The new judges elect, Thomas A. Jones of Jackson and Edward L. Matthias of Van Wert, will be sworn in January 4, and Judge John A. Shauk will retire from the bench at that time after continuous service of about 20 years.

Conn Matthei of Dayton was elected chairman and Frank Davis, Jr., of Columbus, was elected secretary of the bar examining committee at reorganization today. The supreme court appointed two new members of the examining committee. Robert N. Wilkins of New Philadelphia, son of the late Supreme Judge J. Foster Wilkin, and Percy R. Taylor, of Sidney, for terms of five years. They succeed George Beard of Dayton, and John J. Sullivan of Cleveland, whose terms expire January 1.

INSANITY

WILL BE DEFENSE OF HARRY BOOMER, AKRON RUBBER WORKER.

Who Confessed to Killing Mission Worker, and Was Placed on Trial Today.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Akron, O., Dec. 16.—Harry Boomer, 22, rubber worker, charged with the brutal murder of Vinnie Becker, mission worker, in this city September 23, went on trial this morning in Judge Ahren's court.

Boomer, who made an alleged confession immediately following his arrest two days later, will endeavor to escape the electric chair on the ground of insanity. At noon today, five prospective jurors has been temporarily accepted. One of them is a minister, Rev. O. W. Slusser. He was accepted temporarily over the challenge by state's attorneys. He said he had no objection to the death penalty but would insist upon a recommendation of mercy in the event of a conviction.

Boomer's six sisters and brother, Clyde, of Merietta, were in court when the case was called. Boomer was not in appearance. He was dressed in new clothes of the latest fashion which is in marked contrast to his appearance at the time of his arrest. Not once did he confer with his attorneys but he paid close attention to questions directed to prospective jurors as to their position on the question of the death penalty. Attorneys for the defense will use every effort to prevent the introduction of the alleged confession as evidence.

AN INSPECTOR WILL AGAIN BE SENT HERE

Congressman William A. Ashbrook, who is a member of the house committee on public buildings and grounds, writes the Advocate under date of December 15th as follows:

"You may say to the people of Newark that something will be done in a concrete way very promptly looking towards the final settlement of the site question for the Public Building at Newark and the early construction of the same. I had a long conference yesterday with Mr. B. R. Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury. He will send an inspector within a very few days to make a final inspection and report, as to the location of the site.

The site offers have been changed and lowered considerably in several instances since received last spring. It is therefore deemed advisable to have another inspection and report. There is no doubt but what the site will be acquired before April 1st, and I will urge early and prompt preparation of the plans and specifications."

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT.

Comes to Those Who Use Samose, Says Druggist W. A. Erman.

The poor, thin emaciated person when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to full vigor, proper vitality Druggist Erman and Son will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

SHELL KILLED WOMAN BEHIND STORE COUNTER.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Scarborough, England, Dec. 16.—Via London—Just before daylight broke a vessel of the cruiser type was observed off Scarborough, the warship came in close and for half an hour threw shell after shell into the town, doing considerable damage.

A woman behind a counter in a shop was instantly killed and her husband was injured. The ruins of the shop tumbled down about them. Forty or fifty shells were thrown, the objective of the German gunners apparently being the town hall, which was damaged.

Other property suffered much more severely and at places the streets are filled with wreckage.

During the bombardment the vessels steamed closely past the town and finally disappeared in the haze. After she had been lost sight of, the sound of her guns was heard for some time.

The Faults of Others.
Charity does not require of us that we should not see the faults of others, but that we should avoid all needless and voluntary observing of them and that we should not be blind to their good qualities when we are so sharply sighted in their bad ones. What if others are weak, is that a reason for your no longer keeping any measure with them? You that complain of their troubling you, do you give nobody any trouble? You that are so shocked at the faults you see—if all to whom you have been troublesome should return the trouble they have had with you, you would be oppressed with the weight, and, besides, even supposing that men had nothing to reproach you with, yet consider, further, what obligations you are under from God to show forbearance toward others for which you know you have such abundant occasion at his hands.—Fenelon.

Tennessee's Marbles.
Although marble is the most important product of Knoxville, Tenn., there being thirty-five mills and quarries in the city district, producing values which have reached $3,000,000 a year, the great variety and value of Tennessee's marble deposits were unknown until 1853. Between that year and 1857 the two large additions of the capitol at Washington, wherein the United States senate and the house of representatives sit, were built of this marble. The beautiful East Tennessee variegated marble is the material of which the desks of the president of the senate and the speaker of the house as well as the railing of the stairway leading from the first floor of the capitol to the galleries of the house, were built.—Argonaut.

Rank in the Cabinet.
"Do some members of the cabinet occupy a higher position or receive a higher salary than others? If not, why do the secretary of state and secretary of the treasury always head the list?" asks a reader of the Indianapolis News, which replies: "They all receive the same salary, but they are usually named in the order that the positions were created—the secretary of state, 1789; war, 1789; treasury, 1789; postoffice, 1794; navy, 1798; interior, 1849; justice, 1870; agriculture, 1889; commerce and labor, 1903; department of labor separated in 1913. Latterly they are sometimes named in the order of their succession to the presidency as fixed by what is called the succession law, which differs somewhat from the foregoing."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Honesty in War.

The French marshal Turenne was not only a great general, but a man of singular honesty of character as well. Many incidents which are related of him show his modesty, generosity and military ability. A little story of one of his German campaigns illustrates his rare scrupulousness, even in time of war. The authorities of Frankfurt believed, from the movements of his army, that he intended passing through their territory. They sent a deputation to him which offered him a large sum of money if he would alter the direction of his march and leave Frankfurt unmolested. They were surprised in more way than one by his answer. "Gentlemen," said he, "my conscience will not permit me to accept your money, for I have never intended to lead my army through your town."

Comet's Tail and the Sun.

A theory to explain the tails of comets is advanced by the French physicist, M. Houllervigue in the Revue Scientifique. It is natural to suppose, he says, that the incandescent nucleus of a comet is throwing out electrons into the extremely rarefied atmosphere that surrounds it. The observations of George Ellery Hale, the American astronomer, prove that the sun behaves like a negatively electrified body. Therefore he repels electrons, which are negatively electrified bodies. These particles so repelled would be driven to that side of the comet which is farthest from the sun, and by contact with the molecules of the gaseous and rarefied atmosphere would produce just the luminous appearance that we call a comet's tail.

Every comet's tail always extends away from the sun. Arrhenius, the Swedish astronomer, believed that the particles of the tail were repelled by the light of the sun.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism. At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Epsom Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities. Epsom Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, refreshing lithia-water drink, which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

INSANITY WILL BE DEFENSE OF N. Y. MURDERER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Haverstraw, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Questions put to persons here, who expect to be called as witnesses in the trial of William V. Cleary, former town clerk of this village, for the murder of his son-in-law, Eugene Newman, which begins at New City tomorrow, indicate, it is said, that the plea of the defense will be insanity.

Interest in the Cleary trial centers about the course Mrs. Anna Cleary Newman, widow of the murdered youth and daughter of the accused man will follow if called to the witness stand. Since the tragedy last summer soon after she had eloped with young Newman, the young widow has been living in New York City with her mother and has denied her of all callers. Both sides insist that Mrs. Newman's testimony will favor them, although neither will state positively that she is to be called as a witness.

FINDING THE RANGE AT SEA.

How Warships Bring Their Guns to Bear Upon the Enemy.

One of the most important instruments used on a warship is the range finder. For without this instrument it is practically impossible to aim the guns accurately without first acquiring a serious delay in getting the range by trial shots.

Range finders all work on much the same principle. Images of the ship or other object sighted on being received through the two object glasses, one located near each end and on the side of the tube, being reflected and refracted by a system of mirrors and prisms so that both are brought to the eye of the observer, who looks through the eyepiece located at the middle of the tube and on the opposite from the object glasses.

The right hand object glass transmits only the upper half of the object sighted on and the left hand object glass the lower half. When sighting on a ship, for example, the rigging and funnels will appear to be offset horizontally from the lower part of the ship, so long as the instrument is not set for the correct range. The images are then brought together by a thumb screw that moves one of the prisms, and this sets a scale that shows the distance in yards to the ship.—Pearson's Weekly.

HE WAS "A LITTLE QUEER."

His Eccentricity in the End Proved His Own Undoing.

Rev. Mr. Hagamore, to whose memory is a slab in the church at Castibogue, Leicestershire, England, was "a little queer." It seems that the reverend gentleman died in January, 1886, leaving all of his property, valued at $3,500, to a railroad porter.

This queer old preacher kept one servant of each sex, whom he locked up every night. His last employment of an evening was to go the rounds of his premises, let loose the dogs and fire off his gun.

He lost his life in a curious manner. Starting out early one morning to let out his servants, the dogs fawned upon him and threw him into a pond of water. The servants heard his cries, but, being locked up, could not render assistance, so the old man was drowned.

When the inventory of his property was taken, he was found to be the owner of 80 gowns, 100 pairs of trousers, 100 pairs of boots, 400 pairs of shoes, 50 wigs (although he had plenty of natural hair), 50 dogs, 90 wagons and carts, 30 wheelbarrows, 240 razors, 80 plows, 50 saddles and 222 pickaxes and shovels. He surely was "a little queer!"—London Standard.

Merely Point of View.

It was about 3 o'clock, and the fading light in the art gallery of the Public Library was beginning to bother the painter woman who faced the sunset canvas with lumpy palette impaled on one thumb and paint brush held hesitatingly in the other hand, while she scrutinized again the intricate blending of sunset colors and backed away a few steps farther to squint at the perspective of the old whaler she was copying as it lurched in painted waves. Details of color blending, of light and shade, of form after the fashion of a painter's sensitive appreciation, undoubtedly filled her mind.

Then came thumping along the polished floor two other women. They stood for a moment in silence in front of the sunset picture. One of them raised a thick, bristled hand and rubbed the canvas with a slow, feeling rub.

"Ain't it grand, Nellie?" she said. "An' all hand painted too."—New York Post.

An Old Larch Tree.

Italy can boast of a larch tree the age of which is estimated to be 2,000 years. It is situated on the northern flank of Mount Cenis in the direction of the huts of Plan Veni, above Courmayeur, a few steps from the footpath that skirts the limits of the meadow land. Due allowance being made for the extreme slowness with which the larch grows, for the altitude above sea level (1,650 meters) at which it is rooted and for its northerly exposure in the near neighborhood of the glacier, where the cycle of its development is barely five months every year, this venerable larch, untouched alike by woodman's ax and thunderbolt, cannot be less than 2,000 years old.—Scotsman.

Wagner to the Musicians.

Wagner's little admonition to the musicians was most characteristic and worthy to be noted by many an orchestra of this day. "Gentlemen," he said, "I beg of you not to take my fortissimos too seriously. Where you see 'ff' make an 'ff' of it, and for piano put in a 'p.' Remember how many of you there are down there against the one poor little human throat on the solo on the stage."—Newman's Musical Relections.

ENGLAND AS AN ISLAND.

Changes a Channel Tunnel and Perfect Aviation Would Bring.

Great Britain is an island. Unless there is some great convulsion of nature to all true the sea of Dover will separate it from the continent of Europe. Yet every now and then a tunnel is bored, and at this moment men are flying from Ireland to France and France to England.

Suppose the channel tunnel to be made; suppose flying to be improved and it is improving every day—what will become of the island? What will become of the sea? There will be there and will be shown on the map, but to all human intents and purposes the geography will be changed. The sea will no longer be a barrier; it will no longer be the only link from England to France. There will be going to and from on or in dry land and going to and from neither on land nor sea. Suppose this science of aviation to make great strides and heavy loads to be carried in the air, what will become of the ports, and what will become of the seagoing peoples?

The ports will be there, appearing as now on the map, but Birmingham goods will be shipped at Birmingham for foreign parts, and Lillgow will export mineral direct, saying goodbye to the Blue mountain and even to Sydney harbor.—Sir Charles P. Lucas in Science.

EAR DRUMS AND DROWNING.

Why Good Swimmers May Meet Sudden Death in the Water.

Sudden death of swimmers has never been explained satisfactorily, but it is generally assumed that it is due to cramps that affect the respiratory muscles. The Medical Record says there is another theory that "has never received the attention which it merits." This is that cold water penetrating the ear sets up an irritation in the delicate passages of the inner ear. It cites an address delivered by Dr. Guethlich before the Berlin Otolaryngological society, in which he revived this theory.

The irritation of the labyrinth of the inner ear by cold water might cause sudden paralysis, just as a shock to it through a sharp blow on the chin will cause a "knockout." The symptoms of the swimmer and the glider are similar. They can make motions, but can not direct them; they may become temporarily unconscious. In the case of the swimmer, of course, drowning follows unless some one helps him.

The Medical Record says that persons with perforated ear drums are those chiefly menaced by this accident, although it may occur to others. And this in spite of the fact that children with large perforations of the ear drum often swim and dive with impunity.

The Periscope.

Permit me to introduce myself to the public generally. Modest and retiring both by nature and occupation, I have hitherto refrained from obtruding myself upon the attention of the multitude.

My name is Periscope. My principal object in life is to rise to every necessary occasion. When this demands my more or less immediate presence I occupy myself by holding up the mirror, not to nature, but to the evening. Like an occasional idea which renders superfluous old systems of philosophy, I have come to render superfluous an entire cycle of inventions. I am the last triumph of mind over matter. I reflect, and a thousand men go down to their fate. Within the blue zone of my horizon, subject to my orders, flits the angel of death.

I am the naval eye that put the naught in Dreadnought.—Life

Fires in the Philippines.

The fighting of fires in the dry season is a grave problem in the cities and pueblos of the Philippine Islands. House construction is light, the roof being made from nipa palm leaves, the framework of bamboo and the sides of either nipa or sawali—a woven product of certain species of bamboo. When this material has been exposed continuously to the sun for several months it becomes as inflammable as tinder. Fires that break out in the nipa districts always gain great headway before any kind of an alarm can be sent in even where there is a fire department. Fires in such districts spread with great rapidity. In thickly populated areas it is not uncommon for a fire to burn several hundred houses before it is stopped.

Keep the Hands Clean.

Clean hands and nails are most important precautions against carrying poisonous germs into the mouth on food taken in the hands. Nurses attending cases of typhoid have not infrequently taken the disease because of such failure to cleanse their hands before eating. A towel may carry germs from one person who has been infected into the eyes of another who uses it and so produce blindness.

Love's Labor Lost.

"What on earth has become of my meerschaum pipe?" inquired an intemperate smoker.

"Well, my dear," his wife replied, "it was getting awfully discolored, so I gave it a coat of white enamel, and it is not quite dry yet!"

Didn't Want 'Em.

CITY HOSPITAL

over 5 per cent remains unpaid, and the people are responding to the notices sent out so that the loss in subscriptions will not be 2 per cent, and in many instances people have paid their subscriptions when they were not able to spare the money, and it all goes to show that every one is in favor of the City Hospital and their only regret is that they could not do more.

Some one has said that the most of them have with such beauty that you always remember it. Some men give as grins do all you have to do is to place your dish under the overflowing stream. But it is true that you need a man who gives as a pump does when the well is dry, and the pump leaks.

The following people have furnished rooms: Mrs. A. H. Helser, Mrs. George D. Orr, Mrs. W. N. Falton, Mrs. Frank P. Kennedy and Mrs. W. C. Miller; Mrs. Edwin Thomas, Mrs. W. D. Fulton, Judge Charles H. and Edward Kibler, Mrs. F. M. Howard, Miss Irene Jones, two rooms, Eastern Hotel, The Silent Circle of The Kings Daughters, The Teutonic Century Club; Luther League, and the Altar Guild of the Episcopal church; Charles H. Spencer, the office furniture.

There have been a great many other donations made by the good people of this city in furniture, etc., but in the brief time which I had to investigate I was unable to get the names.

I am quite sure that one can not subscribe to help build an institution like this without being benefited, it put you on humanitarian side. There is much good in giving, and then the moral effect upon a community is everlasting, and I can not let this pass without quoting from the Bible.

"Though I speak with tongues of men and of Angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling symbol." "And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing."

Each contribution of $10 will entitle the subscriber to a life-time membership in the Hospital Association, with the right to vote one vote for each $10 contributed, at all annual elections of officers of the Association, the right to vote to be personal to the contributor, without the right of assignment, and shall expire with the death of the contributor or his or her removal from the county. The right to become a member, however, to be optional with the contributor.

The election of trustees will be held some time in February, I believe, and at that time a new board will take full charge.

I am one of those who believe in giving credit where credit is due. I have already given the ladies the credit of being undoubtedly the founders of this institution, but among the men who have given their time and their money to make this building possible, and the people of Newark should be thankful that we have such magnanimous souls in our midst. What they did they did without pay, and without a murmur of complaint. I refer to Samuel F. Van Voorhis, our president, and William L. Prout, and Henry D. Woodbridge. They are the fathers of this hospital and I hope the citizens will never regret the building of this much needed structure.

Mr. Fulton was followed by Mr. Henry D. Woodbridge, who, in the name of the trustees, spoke of the significance of the day and formally presented the keys of the hospital to the board of managers in the following words:

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen—

The remarks of the president have somewhat embarrassed me. I was not looking for praise or compliment for my part in this work. By past experience I have learned not to look for reward in charitable work or good deeds, but rather to expect censure and criticism—in the latter we have not been disappointed. If one is looking for praise my advice is not to undertake charitable work, as usually the only reward to be looked for is the consciousness of having taken part in some worthy cause. Today is certainly a red letter day in the history of the Newark Hospital Association. Today the dreams which the Lady Board of Managers have been dreaming for years past have materialized and we have this hospital plant of which Newark may well be proud. The first legacy received was that of Mr. Chris Weippert, of $250. In a few years this was followed by that of Mr. T. O. Donovan of $500. These two gifts were held as a nucleus for a new and better building. Then came the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Everett. But after all full credit must be given our Lady Board of Managers for holding the association together for so many years against great and seemingly overwhelming discouragements. It is our duty and privilege on behalf of the trustees this evening, ladies, to hand over the keys of the building to your care, and in doing so we feel assured from your past record, we are placing them in safe hands. Let petty jealousies be buried, criticism smothered, and let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and there will be no doubt of the future success of the association.

Mrs. Frank P. Kennedy, vice president of the board of managers, responded to Mr. Woodbridge's presentation and spoke of the appreciation of the board of managers.

Mr. President and Members of the Board of Trustees:

"In behalf of the board of managers I wish to extend to you a most grateful appreciation of the care, thought and labor you have expended on this beautiful new hospital building."

This hospital has been a crying need in Newark for many years, and had it not been for your earnest endeavor and the generous co-operation of the citizens of Newark, we would not now be standing here tonight with joy and gratitude in our hearts, and in hope in the near future we may expand to even greater proportions.

"We accept the keys of this new house feeling the weight of great responsibility, and we realize more than anyone our limitations. But we will try to conduct this institution in such a manner that it will be a credit to you, members of the board of trustees and to the city of Newark, and that our City Hospital will always be a beacon-light to suffering humanity."

The formal program of addresses took place in the large corridor on the first floor, and at the conclusion, Rev. C. H. Stull, pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist church, in a prayer replete with beautiful sentiments, gave the final benediction.

The closing of the dedicatory program on Tuesday evening marked the successful attainment of the first step in the great work of a few Newark women and then her citizens generally to bring relief to sufferers within her confines, and to all who had assisted, it brought only pleasure and pride, and Newark now has a well-equipped hospital located in its own building.
